July 23, 2018

Adds Chris Allick, Todd Blankfort, Paul Clausing and David Suddendorf from Hunting Dog Capital LLC

LOS ANGELES, July 23, 2018 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- B. Riley FBR, Inc. ("B. Riley FBR"), a leading full service investment bank and wholly-owned subsidiary of B. Riley Financial, Inc., announced today that it has expanded its investment banking division with the addition of Chris Allick, Todd Blankfort, Paul Clausing and David Suddendorf.

The new additions come from San Francisco-based Hunting Dog Capital LLC, a firm which specializes in providing flexible financing for lower middle-market U.S. companies seeking growth. Allick, Blankfort, Clausing and Suddendorf bring decades of experience to the firm's investment banking division.

"I'm thrilled to have Chris, Todd, Paul and David join the B. Riley FBR team," said Andy Moore, Chief Executive Officer of B. Riley FBR. "With this group's unique skillset and strong origination network, we can generate new small- and micro-cap opportunities by extending our reach to smaller companies and providing the assistance they need to accomplish their business objectives. Additionally, their contribution will enable us to identify additional synergistic opportunities across the entire B. Riley Financial platform, including our lending affiliate whose capabilities currently target mid- to large cap companies, with loans ranging $10 million to $300 million, and expand our overall lending platform. I'm excited to welcome them to the team and look forward to seeing them contribute to our growing success."

Allick co-founded Hunting Dog Capital with Todd Blankfort in 2006 as a managing member of the firm. He joins B. Riley FBR as Managing Director and brings over 35 years of investment banking industry expertise, primarily focused on special situations credit. Prior to co-founding Hunting Dog Capital, Allick founded boutique investment bank Instream Partners in 2000, which then became Instream Capital LLC. Allick earned an MA in economics from York University and a BA in Economics and English literature from the University of Colorado Boulder and is a member of the FINRA Dispute Resolution Board of Arbitrators.

Chris Allick commented: "Todd, Paul, David and I have collectively established a solid foundation comprised of an extended network and a strong set of capabilities over the past 12 years. This is a new and exciting chapter for us as we not only have the ability to strengthen the foundation we have put in place, but we also have the opportunity to expand our reach and generate new opportunities, given the direct access we now have to the resources across the B. Riley Financial platform."
